ORCHESTRAL STRINGED INSTRUMENTS

Antoni INSTRUMENTS

The purpose of music is to inspire, to entertain, to lift the soul.

The purpose of playing a musical instrument is to inspire, to entertain, to lift the soul, and bring joy to our lives as players and to the lives of others who listen.

Capable of bringing many emotions to the surface; melancholy, sadness, reflection, happiness, satisfaction and ecstasy amongst them, the instruments of the violin family, in the hands of skilled players, produce some of the most evocative and beautiful sounds known to man.

Antoni Orchestral Stringed Instruments have been created to bring exceptional features, timbers, build, specification, tone and playability to the beginner, progressing student, and more accomplished players.

At Antoni, we recognise the significant contribution that an instrument makes to the willingness of a student to persevere, practice, progress and pursue the process of learning to control the instrument, get the best from it, and thus enjoy making music.

With the Antoni range, we have taken great care to ensure that at every level, the instruments look, feel, perform and sound and play way out of their price class.

Debut

Perfect for the new player, the Antoni 'Debut' Series features solid carved maple back table and ribs, a superb bow and many other attributes.

Antoni 'Debut' series is available in a range of sizes, in violin, cello and bass.

Premiere

Perfect for the progressing student the Antoni 'Premiere' Series violin outfit features a carefully selected, highly figured hand-carved maple back, close grain spruce top and select solid maple ribs.

With ebony fittings including heart-shaped pegs, the 'Premiere' is finished in a traditional, high-gloss 'moose nose brown' varnish, and supplied with an octagonal Brazilwood bow.

The 'Premiere' is an ideal 'step-up' and is an instrument which will prove its worth in any environment.

The Antoni 'Premiere' is available in full and three quarter size, and as the class leading Electralin™ Eelectric violin.

Symphonique

Discernment comes with experience and aspiration.

The Antoni 'Symphonique' violin, with its luxurious timbers, finish and appointments sets it apart, making a clear statement of serious intent, marking the player out as one for whom care, attention to detail, finesse, subtle nuances and beauty are all essential personal and musical attributes. Provided with a superlative Brazilwood bow, also beautifully appointed, and protected by a professional and luxurious case, the 'Symphonique' will astonish the most accomplished player with its focused tone, beauty and breadth of ability.

As the player matures in capability, so too will the Symphonique, proving to be a worthy long term companion in a lifetime of fulfilling performances.

Whichever Antoni instrument is right for your needs, you can be assured that as much thought, care, emotion, skill and detail as you apply to your music has gone in to the instruments we have created for you to enjoy.

PREMIERE ELECTRALIN™

Ideal for playing live, recording or for silent practice.

The Electralin™ low mass solid spruce body is a classic combination of craftsmanship, and contemporary design, with comfort contouring for good balance, and great ergonomics. Traditional materials and building techniques provide the feel, tonality, and dynamics associated with an acoustic violin.

The heart of the Antoni Electralin™ sound is the discreet, bridge mounted vibration sensitive transducer, which 'listens' to the bridge, and body, for a truly natural sound. The hum free preamp, voiced for the electric violin, is feedback resistance, provides extensive tonal control, and produces a truly breathtaking, natural amplified tone for live work, or silent practice.

Melding the very best of the old and the new, the Antoni Electralin™ is a player's instrument, built to perform.
